Welcome to Term 2! We hope you all had an enjoyable and relaxing break.

Spelling, speeches and homework will recommence this week, so please remind your children that fulfilling these tasks does have its rewards. The topic for Week 2 speech is ‘Students should/should not be able to choose their own bedtime’.

This week will be starting our new accelerated literacy book – “Where the Forest Meets the Sea” by Jeanie Baker. This text ties in nicely with this term’s HSIE topic and we’re sure the students will appreciate the extraordinary story and images this book has to offer.

In visual arts we will be drawing inspiration from Jeanie Baker’s miniature collage constructions. Children may be asked to collect a combination of artificial and natural materials to use in their final artwork.

Next week our Year 3 students will be sitting NAPLAN (14th – 16th May). Mrs Sutton and I wish them the best of luck and hope they can relax enough to enjoy the experience. Remember, NAPLAN is merely a snapshot of your child’s abilities.

Just a reminder that our excursion is taking place on Friday the 17th May, if you need a replacement note please let us know so we can finalise numbers as soon as possible.

Have a wonderful week.

Regards,
Mrs Adams and Mrs Sutton.
